THE CLOSING SCENE.

[The North British review pronounces this poem—"The Closing Scene"—by T. Buchanan Read—the best that has ever been written by an American author:]

Within this sober realm of leafless trees
The russet year inhaled the dreamy air,
Like some tanned reaper in his hour of ease,
When all the fields are lying brown and bare.

The gray barns, looking from their hazy hills
O'er the dim waters widening in the vales,
Sent down the air a greeting to the mills
On the dull thunder of alternate flails.

All sights were mellowed, and all sounds subdued,
The hills seemed farther, and the streams sang low;
As in a dream, the distant woodman hew'd
His winter log with many a muffled blow.

Th' embattled forests, erewhile armed in gold,
Their banners bright with every martial hue,
Now stood, like some sad beaten host of old,
Withdrawn afar in Time's remotest blue.

On slumb'rous wings the vulture tried his flight;
The dove scarce heard his sighing mate's complaint;
And like a star slow drowning in the light,
The village church-vane seemed to pale and faint.

The sentinel cock upon some side-hill crew,
Crew twice, and all was stiller than before—
Silent till some replying wanderer blew
His alien horn, and then was heard no more.

Where erst the jay within the elm's tall crest
Made garrulous trouble round the unfledged young;
And where the oriole hung her swaying nest
By every light wind like a censer swung.

Where sung the noisy masons of the eaves,
The busy swallows circling ever near,
Foreboding, as the rustic mind believes,
An early harvest and a plenteous year;

Where every bird which charms the feast
Shook the sweet slumber from its wings at morn,
To warn the reapers of the rosy east,
And now was songless, empty and forlorn.

A RAIN TORNADO AT SHASTA BUTTE.—The Yreka Union, of June 29th, describes an interesting scene as follows:

E. H. Heard informs us that a most violent tornado of wind visited Sheep Rock locality, near Shasta Butte, last Saturday evening, that surpassed anything ever witnessed. The course of the storm was from south to north, and was caused by two rain clouds, one passing the east side and the other the west side of Shasta Butte and meeting at the summit of Sheep Rock. The meeting of these rain clouds resulted in a sight such as has never been before witnessed in this section of the country. The clouds broke, scattering a perfect deluge of rain over a section of country six miles in width, carrying everything before it. Rocks of half a ton weight were carried by the torrent down the mountain at a terrible velocity and landed in the valley below, a distance of a mile from the summit. A continuous sound as if a hundred cannon in the distance were being quickly discharged, was kept up for more than three hours. From the residence of Heard to the Rock, a distance of six miles, on the low ground at the foot of the mountain, there was one continuous lake of water, varying in depth from six inches to four feet. Dry gulches in which water has never before been seen by the oldest inhabitant or "any other man," were filled with water. A small rivulet near the residence of Heard, in which there usually runs only a few inches, was filled beyond its banks in a few minutes to a supposed depth of water of 15 feet.

GARIBALDI IN A BATTLE PICTURE.—The romantic story of the duel in battle between Garibaldi and a Captain in the Austrian service, who had sworn to kill him, has been made the subject of a historical painting now on exhibition in London. The incident occurred at the battle of Melazzo. The central figure is Garibaldi cutting down Captain Guiliani. The incident is historical, and the picture is founded on a sketch by an officer who was present. It is said that Guiliani had sworn to take Garibaldi dead or alive, and with this object had cut through the Garibaldians at the head of a troop of picked men. He had just time to say, "General, you are my prisoner," when a blow from Garibaldi's sword unhorsed him. The picture will be engraved.

"DIED POOR!" as if anybody could die rich, and in that act of dying did not lose the grasp upon title, deed and bond, and go away a pauper out of time. No gold, no jewels, no lands nor tenements. And yet men have been buried by charity's hand who die rich; died worth a thousand pleasant memories, and thousand hopes restored.

HE who would know what life is, must have its trials as well as joys.

GEN. BURNSIDE'S PART IN THE GREAT DRAMA.—When Gen. Grant discovered the large reinforcements that Lee's army was receiving, he ordered Gen. Burnside to march to Washington with 30,000 of his 40,000 troops, encamped at Annapolis. The remaining 10,000 proceeded to Fortress Monroe, to help Butler's operations. The special duty assigned to Gen. Burnside was that of protecting Washington. He despatched his black troops, some 8,000 men, and placed them in the fortifications and stockades along the railroad between Alexandria and the Rappahannock. With the remaining 22,000 he followed after the main column under Grant, making reconnoisances to the North to see that Lee did despatch any considerable force towards the city of Washington. Grant crossed the Rappahannock and opened the fight on Wednesday. Burnside, instead of halting, pressed after Grant, and by a forced march of twenty-five miles, reached the field of battle on Thursday evening. The next day he went into the fight with his corps of Reserves, with all the dash and bravery that signalized Marshal Ney, at the head of Napoleon's Old Guard. His promptitude and intrepidity saved our lines from impending disaster on several occasions, on bloody Friday. All honor to the heroic patriot, Burnside.

THE PENINSULAR FORTIFICATIONS.—Hundreds of miles of earthworks have been built by the army of the Potomac within the last thirty days. From the Rapidan to the Chickahominy these war furrows have mutilated and torn the bosom of Virginia. Twenty years hence, and the tourist will delve in the sandy soil for an old canteen, a piece of shell, or a rusty bayonet. These works are all strong; they are permanent, and for centuries will be like great seams upon the land's surface. The men who built them, consecrated the ramparts with their blood, and piled the trenches with the rebel dead, will most of them have passed mournfully away to join the solemn procession of generations. Now there can always be found a spot where the battle ragest hottest and the leaden death flew thickest. Twenty mounds of earth, each one marked by a hasty, unpretending headboard, can always be seen. In a short time the elements will level the rudely-shaped mound, and all that will betray the quiet resting place of the dead warrior will be the unusual rankness of the grass over that spot beneath which reposes his toil and war worn frame.

THE OLDEST REPUBLIC ON EARTH.—The American Quarterly Review contains a letter from G. W. Irving, Esq., giving a sketch of his visit to San Marino, a small republic in Italy, between the Appenines, the Po and the Adriatic. The territority of this State has only a population of about 7,000. The republic was founded more than 1,400 years ago, on moral principles, industry and equity, and has preserved its liberty and independence amidst all the wars and discords which have waged around it.—Bonaparte respected it and sent an embassy to express his sentiments of frendship and fraternity. It is governed by a Captain Regent, chosen every six months by the representatives of the people, (sixty-six in number,) who are chosen every six months by the people. The taxes are light, the farm-houses are neat, the fields well cultivated, and on all sides are seen comfort and peace, the happy effects of morality, simplicity, liberty and justice.

LAVATER, the man who long before the birth of phrenology, wrote a very clever book on physiognomy, gives a very good opinion of people who are fond of dressing well, and throws something more than suspicion on ladies who are careless of their apparel. He says: "Young women who neglect their toilet indicate in this very particular a disregard of order, a deficiency of taste, and the qualities which inspire love. The girl of eighteen years, who does not desire to please in so obvious a matter as dress, will be a slut, and probably a shrew at twenty-five." When so much is written about the sin and danger of dress, it is pleasant to see a sensible record now and then, on the other side.

TEARS are the magic blossoms of the heart at parting, smiles at meeting. Sometimes they bloom at once; then joy is sorrow, and sorrow is joy.

THE Peace Platform: Stoop to the rebels, lick their boots, and let them lick you for your pains.

PATRIOTIC DRINKING.—A loyal man came to town the other day, got a little heavy about the head, and fearing he might be suspected of drinking a little too freely, apologized to a crowd of bystanders in the following eloquent and patriotic language: "Now I ax you fellers who's the best citizen, him as supports the Government or him as doesn't? Why, him as does, in course. I supports Government, fellers—every man as drinks supports Goverment. That is, if he drinks taxed lickers. Every blessed drop of licker he swallers is taxed to pay the salaries of them big officers at Washington, and support the war. S'pose all was to quit drinking, why the war must stop, and the Government fall—it couldn't help it, nohow. That's the werry reason I drinks. I don't like grog—I mortally hates it. If I followered my own inclernation, I'd rather drink buttermilk, or ginger pop, or soda water. But I lickers for good of my country, to set an example of loyalty; wirtuous self-denial to the rising generation.—[Holmes Co. (Ky.) Farmer.

IT has been ascertained by a late estimate that more than two hundred millions of dollars have been contributed by the people in aid of the war since the rebellion commenced. Of this eleven millions have been contributed by the States for the equipment and maintenance of troops. Forty-seven million, five hundred thousand dollars have been contributed by the States for bounties and extra pay and allowances to the families of volunteers. Thirty-four millions more have been contributed by cities for raising and recruiting regiments. Seventy-nine millions and a half more for supplying their families and furnishing bounties. The State contributions for sick and wounded soldiers, etc., have been eight hundred thousand dollars; for harbor and other defenses, etc., thirteen millions Another million is known to have been contributed by private individuals for this object. Private contributions for the care and comfort of soldiers, twenty-four millions. The contributions for freedmen and refugees is six hundred and forty thousand dollars. And the work is going on and increasing, as we see by the Metropolitan Fair, that raised a million dollars. We have had individual examples of liberality, such as was seldom or never known Cornelius Vanderbilt, we think, leads in the greatness of his donations. At one time he made a donation of a steamer to the Government which cost him over a million dollars, and was then worth eight hundred thousand dollars; and recently he presented one hundred thousand dollars to the New York Fair.—[Ex.

THE BELOVED WIFE.—Only let a woman be sure that she is precious to her husband, not useful, not valuable, not convenient, simply, but lovely and beloved; let her feel that her care and love are noticed, appreciated and returned; let her opinion be asked, her approval sought, and her judgment respected in matters of which she is cognizant; in short, let her only be loved, honored and cherished, in fullfillment of the marriage vow, and she will be to her husband, and her children, and society a well spring of pleasure. She will bear pain, and toil, and anxiety; for her husband's love is to her a tower and a fortress. Shielded and sheltered therein adversity will have lost its sting. She may suffer, but sympathy may dull the edge of her sorrow. A house with love in it—and by love I mean love expressed in words, and looks, and deeds, for I have not one spark of faith in the love that never crops out—is to a house without love, as a person to a machine; the one is life, the other mechanism.

PROOF READING.—Nobody outside of a printing office had any idea of the trouble one is put to in order to have every newspaper article read according to copy. Even the London Times, although its proof sheets are probably more carefully read than those of any other paper in the world, sometimes makes sad blunders. A Mr. Wieas officiated as chairman at the adjourned meeting of the Garibaldi Working Men's Committee on the 23d of April, and the Times made him a present of an s, which was rather awkwardly placed. His name was given as "Wiseass," very much to the disgust of the gentleman in question, who made a very early call at the Times office that morning.

ATTILA was the "scourge of God;" Jeff. Davis is the Knout of the Devil to his own people.—[Prentice.

"THERE IS A LIGHT BEYOND.—When in Maderia—writes a traveler—I set off one morning to reach the summit of a mountain, to gaze upon the distant scene and enjoy the balmy air. I had a guide with me, and we had, with difficulty, ascended some two thousand feet, when a thick mist was seen descending upon us, quite obscuring the whole heavens. I thought I had no hope left but at once to retrace our steps or be lost; but as the cloud came nearer and nearer, and darkness overshadowed me, my guide ran on before me, in the mist and calling to me, ever and anon, saying: "Press on, master, press on, there's light beyond." I did press on.—In a few minutes the mist was past, and I gazed upon a scene of trancendent beauty. All was light and cloudless above, and beneath was the almost level mist, concealing the world below me, and glistening in the rays of the sun like a field of untrodden snow. There was nothing at that moment between me and the heavens.

O, ye, over whom the clouds are gathering, or who sit beneath the shadow, be not dismayed if they rise before you. Press on—there is light beyond.

FREMONT AND THE SOUTH PASS.—In 1856 while on the stump in Oregon, Nesmith, now United States Senator, told his constituents how Fremont discovered or explored the South Pass. He said:

"In the year 1843, as many of you know, I crossed the plains to Oregon, in company with several hundred emigrants and their long drawn out ox-teams, and heavy family wagons. At the South Pass I remember seeing Fremont, at the interesting moment when he is supposed to have discovered that celebrated indentation in the Rocky Mountains. I saw him, and methinks I see him yet—a swarthy high-toned looking individual, with long flowing hair, parted in the middle, and riding lesurely and comfortably in a spring wagon, drawn by two mules, branded U. S.," while behind him sat a big negro holding an umbrella between the sun and the dainty Pathfinder to keep him cool. But some one asks, how did he discover the South Pass? Why, in the simplest way imaginable. He just followed along through the Pass in the wake of the ox-teams of the emigrants, over a plain smooth road, that had been traveled by the fur wagons for forty years!

GENERAL LEE'S DAUGHTER IN BUTLER'S CAMP.—A late letter from General Butcamp, says:

We have in our lines the daughter of Gen. Robert E. Lee. She is stopping at the house of a relative, an old gentleman named Hill Carter, whose place is on the banks of the James river, just opposite our landing at Bermuda Hundred. Mr. Carter was very attentive to our wounded during the Peninsular campaign, and received a safeguard from General McClellan. Beyond a military guard upon the plantation, to prevent communication with the rebels, Mr. Carter is now left in undisturbed possession of his estate by Gen. Butler, and his young relative enjoys unlimited personal freedom.

VARIETIES OF DEMOCRATS.—A western paper relates that Petroleum V. Nasby, a shining light in the ministry of Dr. Olds' new Copperhead church, thus sets forth the divisions in the Democratic party:

1—Them ez would nominait Mick Lellon on a war platform.

2—Them ez would nominait Mick Lellon on a peace platform.

3—Them es would nominait Vallandygum on a peace platform.

4—Them ez would nominait Vallandygum on a war platform.

5—Them ez would favor the war ef slavery could be let alone.

6—Them es is opposed to the war in enny shape.

7—Them ez is in Kanady in consekens uv the draft.

8—The betwixt and betweeners, which is ashamed uv our party and ain't sootable for enny other. They are with the Democracy ez the Hooziers is with the itch—wood like 2 get rid of it, but can't.

DEAR DOCTOR: I'm 175 years old next October. For 85 years I've been an invalid, and moveable only by a lever.—I heard of Grancieular Syrup. I bought a bottle, smelt the cork, and found myself a man. Now I can turn 13 sommersaults without stopping, run 12 miles in 12 minutes. This is good medicine.

BOTH the Jail and Hospital in Solano county are without a tenant.

COLONEL L. C. BAKER.—Colonel Baker, whose achievements as a secret agent of the War Department deserve special record, was born at Central New York, in 1826, but with his father emigrated to the West, where he grew to manhood. He then removed to Philadelphia, engaging in mechanical business, and subsequently, in 1853, to California. Here he was so conspicuous a member of the Vigilance Committee of San Francisco that, after having in a great measure purified Californian society of its evil elements, his coadjutors demanded that he should be received into the regular police of that city. He served as agent in the Police Department of the Pacific coast for 4½ years, gaining the highest reputation. The war breaking out, he proceeded to Washington to tender his services to the Government, and proposed to raise a company, being, however, appointed a Secret Agent of the War Department by General Scott. After various important services, he was sent as a scout to Richmond. He was at first captured by Heintzelman's pickets and sent back to Washington, but a fortnight later succeeded in being captured by rebel pickets and was sent to Richmond. There he obtained an interview with Jeff. Davis, and contrived by certain representations to induce Jeff. Davis to set him at liberty on parole, and subsequently left Richmond for Fredericksburg. Having obtained all the information he wanted, he struck for our lines, was captured by rebel scouts, escaped from them at night and got safely across the Potomac, and two days afterward laid before General Scott a complete map of the defenses in and about Richmond, Fredricksburg, and Manassas.

A NICE LETTER.—The following rebel letter, recently found on the battle-field, gives "Sergeant Graham's" impression as to the "situation:"

"My Sainted Love:—If the Yankee cusses will let me alone I will write you a letter. General U. S. Grant is a bulldog and Meade is a match for the devil. No matter how deeply we ensconce ourselves in the woods, the Yankees are sure to find us out. They charge on our works again and again, and very often take them from us. They fight more fiercely than I have ever seen them As for digging, Grant beats McClellan all hollow. The Yankees build strong rifle-pits, and then our officers ask us to charge them. We have done so, and they have given us hell every time. My sainted love, you will excuse me for using this language, but if you were with us you would say that they gave us hell, too.

My patriotic fair one, I am almost tired of this. So long as there appeared a chance of achieving our national independence I fought with a will, but that hope seems dashed to earth. I have no heart to strive any longer to keep Jeff. Davis from going to the devil sooner than he otherwise would.

Do not blush, my sainted love, but really I wish I were out of this army and joined to you in the holy bonds of wedlock."

After an allusion to matters appertaining to himself and his "sainted love" he closes as follows:

"I must close hurriedly. We are ordered to charge the Yankees, and if possible surprise them.

Truly your own,
SERGT. GRAHAM."

HAD HIM THERE.—The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnatti Commercial gets off the following good one:

In one of the hospitals in this city a day or two ago, a wounded Virginia rebel and a wounded Pennsylvanian, occupying adjoining beds, had a good-humored verbal tilt, as follows:

Union—"Say, reb, where are you from?"

Secesh—"I'm from Virginia, the best State in America."

Union—"That's where old Floyd come from the old thief."

Secesh—"Where are you from, Yauk?"

"I'm from Pennsylvania."

"Secesh—"Well, you needn't talk about old Floyd coming from Virginia, as long as old Buchanan came from Pennsylvania. Don't you wish you hadn't said anything Yank?"

"WE stand upon firm ground."—[Richmond Examiner.

"No Sir, you are walking upon a thin frail crust, with a treacherous sub-soil of fire and brimstone [illegible] ual.

POLITICAL MICAWBERISM.

Ever since the formation of our Government, there have existed parties who professed a belief in principles antagonistic to each other, yet always keeping in view the absolute need of a strict conformity with the provisions of the Constitution. The old Federal party under the lead of John Adams and Alexander Hamilton, opposed the principles advocated by the Jefferson school of politicians. These parties gradually shifted ground in the days of Clinton and Monroe, until the Whig policy of Webster and Clay stood opposed to the political views of Van Buren and Cass, yet through all the changes, in the majority or in a minority, they honestly advocated their views on the score of principle; wrong or right they stood up manfully and honestly for their belief, and up to 1858 or perhaps 1860, no political organization of the country ever shaped its course to subserve policy. Since those years, the nation for the first time beholds the spectacle of a party, or rather a faction, who have not the courage to advocate their views, who change their principles for the sake of policy, and their stolen name of Democracy for demagogueism, and who to-day, stand, like fictitious Micawber, waiting for something to turn up, broken in character, poor in everything but impudence; the debris of a once powerful organization, they stand to-day in the contempt of their countrymen of this generation, and are rapidly making a history for future generations to point the finger of scorn at.

The astute leaders of this faction of Copperheads know that Lincoln will be chosen our next President by a vote which will overwhelm them unless Grant should be defeated in his Virginia campaign. Therefore, they hope for Grant's defeat. If Grant is defeated, they say, we can safely nominate McClellan as the greatest General of the war, or we can nominate Seymour of New York as the greatest statesman, and with the misfortune of the defeat of our arms, can make a raid into the Union party, on the cry made by us since 1861, that it is impossible to conquer the South. Therefore, although our call for a Convention at Chicago was made for the 4th of July, yet if we meet then the war wing has not been sufficiently manipulated to sacrifice McClellan, and as we stand no show in nominating a man who is for peace upon principle, we must postpone our Convention until the latter part of August.

And all for what? This is the question we ask of honest Democrats. If you have principles, have they changed since you fixed the time for the 4th of July or do you expect to change your principles between the 4th of July and 30th of August?

When a party sinks so low as to hang all their hopes of power on the defeat of the arms of their own nation, they cease to deserve respect from any honorable man; and such to-day is the position of the so-called Democratic party. With principles so imbued with treason that they dare not avow them until the grand army of the Potomac is defeated, they stand in the pillory of public scorn, and are waiting for the "sky to fall," hinging their hope on an impossibility.

If Gen. Grant should succeed in his effort to capture Petersburg and Richmond, and drive the rebel army past Lynchburg and out of Virginia, or if he should do still better, capture the entire army of Lee, it would force the Convention to endorse Lincoln, or else take up with pretentious Fremont.

But if, on the contrary, Lee should get the better of Grant, and force him to retire to the defenses of Washington, then we shall have a fair square fight at the polls, Union against Secession, "Peace on any terms" against a "war for the Union."

There is a rugged stern devotion held by Union men for their country, which is too intense and two honest to be worked upon by the political Micawbers of the Copperheads with any advantage.—We love the Union, we love the nation and its honor, and we are determined to maintain it against foreign enemies or domestic treason. War is a stern master, but a great winnower.

Court adjourned until Saturday, at 9 o'clock, A. M.

REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, }
County of Plumas. }

To the Honorable County Court in and for Plumas county, State of California. We, the Grand Jurors empanelled for the July Term, 1864, of said Court, beg leave to submit the following Report:

We have found seven true Bills of Indictment, to-wit:

Burglary and Larceny, one. Misdemeanor, three. Malicious Mischief, one. Attempt to obtain money under false pretences, one. Felony, one.

We ignore an indictment against D. S. Herbert for the killing of a Chinaman, upon the grounds that the deed was done in self defence.

We also ignore an indictment against Robert Bone for the alleged killing of Lowry Y. Grada, while in the discharge of his duty, as an officer of the law.

We also recommend that the papers relating to the suicide of I. J. Hamilton, be placed on file in the Clerk's Office, for the information of his friends.

We have examined the books of the County Clerk, Auditor, Treasurer, Sheriff and District Attorney, and find them kept in a neat and systematic manner; the settlements and accounts of one agreeing with the other.

We have also examined the Public Buildings, and find them in good order.

We would recommend the removal of the wood sheds in the rear of the Court House, to a greater distance from the same, and also recommend that a suitable fence for the protection of the County Buildings be constructed.

We also tender our thanks to the Court and officers of the county, for their courtesy during the session,—all of which is respectfully submitted.

R. C. CHAMBERS,
Foreman Grand Jury.

J. D. COMPTON, Clerk.

COUNTY CONVENTION.—The Union Central Committee, of Plumas, has called a Convention, to be held in this place, on the 6th day of August next, to elect delegates to the State and Congressional Conventions. Let there be a full turn out, for business of importance will be transacted; business which is of interest to every Union man in Plumas county, and the Third Congressional District. The apportionment is made from the official vote of the last general election, and is a fair one, we believe

CELEBRATION.

Owing to the "printer's jubilee" last week, no account was taken in this paper of the celebration of the anniversary of our great National day, the 4th of July, at Indian Valley; but we desire to place on record our views regarding that occasion, and although it may be late, yet better so than it should fade away.

As early as Saturday evening, every room in both the hotels were full. The houses of the citizens were thrown open to the public, and although some were forced to hunt the comforts of the hay stack, yet the general accommodation was very good.

During the day of the 4th, there were at least one thousand persons in attendance, and the absence of drunkenness, the general prevalence of good feeling, and the hearty interest displayed by every person in the ceremonies, betokened the pleasure felt by all.

The earlier part of the day was employed as usual in firing salutes raising flags, &c., and about eleven o'clock the procession marched to a grove near town, where after music by the Quincy Brass Band, and the reading of the Declaration of Independence by S. F. Seabury, Miss Emma Hardinge delivered the Oration.

We hardly know how to characterise it. That it was eloquent, all admit; that it was truth, all felt, but in her idea that all men were created equal, she touched the raw in many who believe in the inequality of races, or who profess to believe in that doctrine. Miss Hardinge is a lecturer on spiritualism, and if she uttered the sentiments of the spirit world in that day, we must believe that the spirits are truly loyal. It may not be orthodox to acknowledge the right of a woman to make public orations. It may be heterodox to think that every person has his or her gift, but we must confess that our feelings were more deeply stirred, our enthusiasm more worked upon on that occasion, in listening to her, than it ever was in hearing any man, be he never so celebrated.

True, we have heard one, and only one man sneer at what he called the "petticoat oratress," but when any person can melt an audience to tears, it is the highest compliment that can be paid to the efforts of oratory. We therefore (with all due respect to Bro. Steiger,) must class Miss Hardinge as the most eloquent person it has ever been our good fortune to listen to.

At the conclusion of her address which occupied one hour and forty minutes, three hearty, rousing cheers were given for her.

At about four o'clock, the Sanitary Fair opened, and as the result proves its perfect success, (nearly $4,000 being realized,) and a full report being published elsewhere it is useless to say more than this, that owing to the scarcity of money in Plumas at the time, it is very doubtful whether any county of no greater taxable property than ours, has exceeded us in generosity toward the splendid charity known as the Sanitary Commission.

At about nine o'clock, the exhibition of fireworks furnished by the citizens of Taylorville, took place, and was truly a credit to their liberal foresight.

The Ball at the Taylor House was well attended, the number of tickets sold being 119, and the saltatory exercise was kept up by its devotees until about sunrise of the 5th.

It was, altogether, a day that will long be remembered by all who were present.

It was the first time that the hills of Plumas ever heard the whole truth, and all right thinking men feel thankful that the time has really come, when speech is as free as thought, or as the pure air of these golden ribbed mountains.

We rejoice and feel proud that the sentiments of Miss Hardinge on slavery expressed the long repressed, unspoken thoughts of a large majority of her hearers. The truth goes marching on. The stone is being rolled away from the sepulchre, for which, thank God!

NEWS FROM THE EAST.

The news from Baltimore up to July 11th, is rather "salty." The invading force of the rebels is estimated at 30,000. They are playing smash with the railroads, bridges, &c., in Maryland and Pennsylvania. It is also reported that a detachment of them have attacked Washington. The citizens are awfully frightened. Troops are being sent to oppose the further advance of the rebels. Gold was quoted at 272 and 167, at last dates.

VILLAINY.—Robinson broker, of the firm of W. E. Robinson & Co., 536 Washington street, absconded on the last steamer for the east, robbing his partner of all his funds, and falsely obtaining money from outside parties to the amount of several thousand dollars. His partner, J. R. Megarrigle, we have known as a practical and intelligent miner in Plumas county, whose honesty is without taint.—[Scientific Press.

THE SANITARY FAIR.

We have received from A. F. Blood Esq., Secretary of the Fair Committee, a full and complete list of all the contributions, &c., given in aid of the Fair, with a list of the names of the doners.—We had hoped to be able to publish it in full, but finding that it would occupy at least four columns of this paper, we have concluded to publish a condensed statement, as follows:

Crescent Mills	$ 403 00.
Nelson Point	413 50.
Rich Bar and Vicinity	178 50.
Taylorville	186 50.
Saw Pit Flat	172 00.
Buck's Ranch	162 50.
Indian Valley (at large)	131 50.
Meadow Valley	125 00.
Richmond Hill	108 50.
Buckeye Mills	100 00.
Spanish Ranch	93 50.
I. V. G. & S. M. Co.	92 00.
Quincy	78 00.
Soda Bar	72 38.
Poorman's Creek	53 50.
Rush Creek	52 37.
12 Mile Bar and Rush Creek Flat	28 50.
Hopkin's Creek	25 00.
Onion Valley	20 00.
Susanville	15 00.
Illinois Ranch	13 00.
Rich Gulch	12 00.
Mountain Meadows	2 50.
Miss Emma Hardinge, from sale of Sage Brush	200 00.
Receipts of Fair for badges, &c.	986 75.
Total Receipts	$3,8[illegible]
Actual expenses incurred	[illegible]
Leaving balance of	$3,744 14.

There is remaining on hand, one embroidered flannel shirt, two candlesticks, ten shares in North Superior stock, five shares Superior stock, fifty shares Mountain Meadows stock, and ten feet in the Galena ledge.

By the above it will be seen that the Crescent Mills precinct contributed the largest amount for any one place. Nelson Point—old Nelson—comes in for the second honors, while Buck's Ranch, Saw Pit and Richmond Hill, Rich Bar, Meadow Valley, Soda Bar, Buckeye Mills, and almost every other precinct in the county did nobly. It would be impossible to single out individual contributions, some of which were as high as $200 in cash, and some were placed at twenty-five or fifty cents. The cash receipts of the Fair amounted to the sum of $986 75. Among the number of modes used for the purpose of catching the stray quarters, we noticed one which seemed to "take," viz: the "grab-bag." It caused lots of amusement, and at the same time caused many a person to come out with a half, as the receipts of the day proved.

Six bouquets, presented by Mrs. J. W. Thompson, of the Illinois Ranch, added over $125 to the receipts of the Fair.

The refreshment tables, ice-cream saloon and lager beer stand were all well patronized. The postoffice department for the reception and distribution of the mails in attendance at the Fair, was a more profitable establishment than some of Uncle Sam's way stations.

A fancy purse contributed by Mrs. L. Wagner of Buck's Ranch, was put up at lottery, and over one hundred dollars collected for tickets. A work box, and several other articles also added to the revenue by the sale of tickets. Several horses, cows, sheep, &c., which had been given to the Fair, were disposed of in the same way.

The auction in the evening commenced with the sale of a "sage-brush," which brought, by the different bids just $200. This sage brush was presented to Miss Hardinge by Dr. Chamberlain of Honey Lake, Lassen county, and it is her intention to sell it wherever she goes, for the benefit of the Fund. The following persons were the bidders for it at the Fair:

Miss Emma Hardinge	$ 51 00.
C. F. Low	26 00.
James A. Blood	25 00.
E. D. Hasselkus	20 00.
John Morrow	12 00.
A. F. Blood	10 00.
W. N. DeHaven	10 00.
John R. Buckbee	10 00.
S. J. Clark	10 00.
A. P. Moore	10 00.
Miss Emma Hardinge	5 00.
Total	$200 00.

The "battle mementoes" from Lookout Mountain, (the ring from laurel root, &c.,) mentioned in this paper some time since, were presented to the Fair by Hon. R. C. Kelly, were sold for $25, and given to Miss Hardinge in trust for the benefit of the fund. Also, a specimen of gold in quartz, presented by James E. Edwards brought $40, and was also given to Miss H. for the same purpose.

A silver eagle, presented by J. J. L. Peel, Esq., brought $5 00, and is still for sale at this office, the purchaser to pay $5 00,—he to sell again for the benefit of the Fund.

It is, however, next to an impossibility to give a detailed statement of all the things sold. We must, however, mention the sale of Confederate scrip. A $2 piece of scrip brought $4, and was again donated. Its second sale, however, was at a discount, only a dime being bid for it. A $1 greenback was then offered, and brought $5.

It will be observed that Quincy only donated about $100. This, however, is not a fair test of what she has done, as only the week before the fair started, about $400 was forwarded from this place to Father Bellows, for the fund, and we know of persons in the town who have paid a certain sum per month since July, 1861.

And yet our charity should not end in one spasmodic effort. There should be a regular county organization effected for monthly subscriptions to swell the current. We have no room this week to enlarge on this latter proposition. Shall touch on it at length hereafter. It may not be amiss to state in conclusion, that the sum raised, to-wit:$3,744 14, is in the currency of California,—gold.

TO THE CONTRIBUTORS TO THE SANITARY FAIR.

The Board of Managers, in behalf of the sick, wounded, and suffering soldiers of our country, return their heart-felt thanks, for your noble contributions. You have the consciousness of having contributed to the relief of the saviors of your country. They also take this opportunity to thank, in the name of our suffering soldiers, the noble and generous patrons of the Fair, whose noble generosity swelled the proceeds to the generous sum of $3,744 14. Neither are the women, whose noble efforts contributed to this happy result, forgotten. "GOD BLESS THEM!" as our soldiers always do.

In conclusion, we would urge upon each and all to be true to the trusts, "God has reposed in you." Your country stands in the vanguard of nations, fighting the battles of liberty for the world. Of all the ages which have preceded this in the world's history, none have demanded of man, nobler efforts for the cause of liberty. None have placed upon him graver responsibilities. None have given him nobler opportunities to array himself upon the side of right and liberty, and against wrong and oppression. Let us remember that, "of that which God hath given us, that will He demand again with usury." Let us not misapply our time or talents. Our country demands our services. Of those who are not in her ranks of battles, carrying forward her broad Banner of Liberty, she demands that you shall see to the relief of her maimed and bleeding heroes. She demands that you be fathers to her orphans, and friends to her widows. You have done well; but let not your well-doing stop; when our country again calls, may we be ready to respond with alacrity.

A. F. BLOOD,
On Behalf of Committee.

IN MEMORIAM.

To the N. G., V. G., Officers and Brothers Red Bluff Lodge, No. 76, I. O. O. F.

Your Committee to whom was referred the communication announcing the death of our beloved brother Wm. Hellman, at [illegible] Valley, Plumas county, on the [illegible] day of June, 1864, after a brief illness of two days, beg leave to report the following preamble and resolutions in memory of our deceased brother:

WHEREAS, It has pleased Divine Providence to remove from our midst, our well-beloved brother William Hellman, whose character in life was marked by all the true attributes of our revered Order; therefore

Resolved, That we have heard with unfeigned regret of this afflictive dispensation of Providence by which we have been deprived of the companionship of a true Odd Fellow, a good and just man, one of the noblest works of God.

Resolved, That we tender to the family and friends of our deceased brother our sincere sympathies; and as a mark of respect and esteem for our departed brother the members of this Lodge wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

Resolved, That the foregoing preamble and resolutions be published in the Red Bluff Semi-Weekly Independent and QUINCY UNION.

QUERY.—Why is it that within a few weeks, the evidence of a secret organization among the sympathizers of treason has become so patent? We have heard more real treason to the country talked of, within four weeks last past, than within the same length of time since Harry Thornton left for Dixie. Watch out, Union men! because we are in a majority, is no excuse for shutting our ears and eyes to facts. We repeat again, Watch!

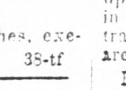

TAKES THE TRICK.—So far as are concerned, Stratman, of San Francisco, has played the "biggest card" in the way of bundles of papers, &c., sent to this office. He is a trump, and plays a full ☞.

WHY WILL YOU BE SICK.

IT IS STRANGE THAT SO MANY PERSONS will suffer for years with diseases when they can be so readily cured.

DR. A. BALL,

Has been established in San Francisco for ten years and during that period has not failed to effect a cure in a single case that he has undertaken.

DOCTOR BALL after a study of forty years has succeeded in compounding a medicine of that will cure the worst cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, Syphilis, Impotency, Skin Diseases, and all complains arising from immoral practices, in less time than by any other process known, without injury to the system.

DR. BALL'S LADIES' RELIEF FOR THE radical cure of weakness and irregularities to which so many ladies of the Pacific Coast are subject, owing principally to the peculiarities of the climate, is the best preparation yet discovered by the medical faculty, as thousands who have used it are prepared to testify.

DR. BALL IS NO QUACK. He is a regular educated Physician of forty years standing and has a diploma, which he will be pleased to exhibit to all those who may wish to examine it.

Persons living at a distance, by sending a description of their complaint, can have this medicine put up in a package and forwarded by mail or express, in such a manner as not only to insure safety in transit, but so that no one would suspect what are the contents.

References will be sent by mail to those who wish to enquire as to the Doctor's ability before placing themselves in his charge.

LOCAL ITEMS.

COMMISSIONED.—The Governor has commissioned A. A. Smith County Clerk for Lassen county.

NEW MILL.—A large saw mill which will run two circular saws, is being built at Genesee Valley, and will be in running order in a short time.

GENEROUS.—Among the list of contributions to the Sanitary Fund, we notice the amount of $200 given by Jas. A. Blood, Esq., of Crescent Mills.

FRUIT, &c.—Apples, pears, peaches, grapes, &c., raised in the lower valleys, have made their appearance in this town.

REVENUE.—The total amount of revenue collected and paid into the County Treasury for the month of June, amounted to the sum of $4,790.

MAIL ROUTE.—What has become of the contract, to be let this month, to carry the mail between Indian Valley and Susanville? Who knows?

SOME COAL.—A coal pit is at present burning at Genesee Valley, which, when the fire is put out, will produce about ten thousand bushels of charcoal.

PLUMAS A. & M. SOCIETY.—The members of this association will find a notice for them to meet in Quincy, on the 30th inst., for the transaction of business, by referring to our ad. columns.

STAGE ROUTE.—On and after Monday next, Mr. Garland will commence running his stage on the route from Quincy to Taylorville and Crescent Mills. The stage will leave Quincy about noon on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday of each week, and will connect with the stage from Oroville.

SALOON KEEPERS.—By a law passed by the last Legislature, saloon keepers can be forced to pay all costs and expenses incurred for trials, &c., when the parties committed a criminal offense, under the influence of liquor: the costs to be levied by the Board of Supervisors, and divided pro rata among them in the county.

SCRIMMAGE.—A "wee bit of a fight" occurred in our town a few days since. The parties came up to the scratch in fine style, and displayed considerable science in the "manly art of self defense." A couple of "peepers," dressed in mourning, and a few bruises was the result of the "mill."

SOLD.—The delinquent shares in the North American G. & S. M. Company were sold on Monday. Persons owning shares in that company, should remember that the tunnel will soon be completed, and if, when it reaches the ledge, it proves as valuable as it is supposed to be, they will be in bad luck on account of not paying their assessments and holding their shares.

FIRE.—A fire has been running in the woods near Rich Bar, East Branch, during the past week. As yet it has done but little damage. The Fluming Company has been obliged to "fight it" occasionally, so as to keep it a respectable distance from the Mill Creek flume. The woods and hills are so dry, that if a fire once gets started, it is almost impossible to extinguish it.

IT IS THE TRUTH.—What? Why that Quincy has as good a Brass Band as any other Mountain town in the State can boast of. It is also true that they receive little or no encouragement from our citizens. If you don't believe it, ask any member of the Band how much of the "root of all evil" they have received in a professional capacity from this place, during the past year, and they will tell you to a picayune.

E. C. V.—"Have the fires all died out?" "Have the altars grown cold?" What has become of the Ancient and Honorable Order in this place? Why are the members so negligent, in attending the meetings of the Lodge? There are several worthy candidates who are desirous of seeing the light. Why cause them to stumble around longer in darkness? Remember your vows, forget all the lamp hold out its glim, all worthy candidates should go in."

THAT RECOMMENDATION.—We would respectfully call the attention of the Board of Supervisors to the report of the Grand Jury, which is published in another column, and particularly to that part of the report which recommends that the Court House square should be inclosed by a fence. Almost every Grand Jury, which has been in session in this county, for the past three years, have made the same recommendation. The Board should act in the matter at its next session.

TOO BAD.—Why is it that some of the traveling companies, such as theatre troupes, nigger delineators, magicians, &c., have not visited our county this year? If they want to burst up their companies, this is one of the best counties in the State to do it in. Lots of 'em have tried it, and will vouch for the truth of our statement. A few "mighty poor" one horse concerns, with a box of common paints, have strayed up this way this year; but the high price of oats, and the scarcity of dimes to buy them, made them make tracks to some other country, in "double quick."

UNION DISTRICT.—This mining district, which is situated on the east side of Indian Valley, and includes all of Light's Canon, is one of the best mining sections of our county. No less than twelve companies are now at work upon their different quartz and copper ledges, taking out rock for shipment, and in prospecting their ledges. During the past two weeks, over thirty tons of copper ore have been forwarded from the Superior ledge to San Francisco, with the intention of having it shipped to Swansea, England, to be smelted. If the smelting works, now in process of construction, at Genesee Valley, should prove that the ore can be smelted in this State, there are several companies who will, in a short time, put up works to smelt their own rock.

RUNAWAY.—As the stage, with the Quincy Brass Band aboard, was going down the grade, near Indian Valley, one day last week, the horses became frightened, and commenced running. The passengers, thinking, no doubt, that their presence would be needed at the celebration, not to say that any of them were the "least bit" frightened, commenced to tumble—jump out, paying but little attention to the order of their exit, but getting out as fast as possible. Some of them alighted on their feet, and some of 'em didn't. Fortunately no one was seriously injured. The driver had his foot badly bruised by one of the wheels of the stage running over it, and two of the members of the Band received considerable of a jar. The horses ran a short distance, upset the stage, and brought up for-ninst a tree, doing but little damage to either horses or stage.

SEND YOUR NAMES.—Parties, sending notices of marriages, &c., for publication, should always send their names, as a guarantee that the same is bona fide.

ASSESSMENT.—See notice of an assessment levied by the Trustees of the North American and Howard G. & S. M. Companies, published in another column.

RUNNING.—The Golden Gate mill, at Round Valley, commenced running again a short time since. The damage did to the engine has been repaired, and the mill is at work crushing quartz, which is paying well.

LEFT US.—The Spanish-negro Pete, a notice of whose arrest and lodgment in jail appeared last week, was taken to Butte county, on Friday last, in charge of Esq. Wells, of Yankee Hill, in that county.

SADDLES, HARNESS, &c.—Mr. Huntington has opened a Saddle & Harness Shop in Taylorville, where he is prepared to furnish customers with anything in his line at low prices. See his advertisement in another column.

COPPER.—The Cosmopolitan Company, at Genesee Valley, has several men employed in taking out ore from their ledge. They average about eight tons per day. The ore is to be smelted by the Genesee Copper Works.

ACCIDENT.—One of the workmen, employed by the Crescent Company, was severely injured a few days since, while at work in the ledge. A piece of steel was broken off from the sledge while striking the drill, and the fragment struck and entered his breast making a severe cut.

FIRE.—To-day, (Saturday,) about 12 o'clock, M., the dwelling house of J. C. Church, Esq., in this valley, caught fire and was burned to the ground. But very little of the furniture was saved. We did not learn the origin of the fire. Loss, about $1,200 [illegible]

"A HOP."—One of the above named city [illegible] [illegible] at the [illegible] Hall, on Wednesday night last [illegible] were about thirty-five couples [illegible] themselves [illegible] music and dancing was kept up until the "wee sma' hours."

SWINDLED.—As will be seen by a paragraph taken from one of our exchanges, which appears in another column, our old friend J. R. Mcguirigle, formerly of Richmond Hill, in this county, has been "done out" in the sum of a few thousand dollars, by the rascality of his partner, one W. H. Robinson, who decamped, taking with him the funds of the company, after running his credit to a considerable amount.

The Post Office at Bidwell's Bar, Butte county, has been abolished.

HOW THE REBELS RECEIVED THE NOMINATION OF LINCOLN AND JOHNSON.—Major McCarty, a member of the rebel General Martin's staff, of Wheeler's command and four or five officers were brought into the city on Thursday. McCarty, with despatches from Martin, was captured by Minty's cavalry. A Federal officer presented these officers with a copy of the Gazette. They soon noticed the announcement of Lincoln and Johnson, and hastily asked the officer if he was a Lincoln man. The latter replied that he was not before the war, but that now he was opposed to making any change of administration and should vote for Lincoln and Johnson. The rebel officers deprecated this, and remarked that McClellan was the best man we (the Federals) had. The captain very suggestively replied that he objected to being advised by the country's enemies as to the best men to be made leaders against these enemies. Why is it that the rebels are all friendly to McClellan? —[Chattanooga Gazette.

ANECDOTE OF THACKERAY.—Never was increase of fortune more gracefully worn or more generously employed The struggling artist and small man of letters, whom he was sure to find at home or abroad, was pretty sure to be assisted if he learned their wants. I know of many a kind act. One morning, on entering Mr. Thackeray's bedroom in Paris, I found him placing some Napoleons in a pill box, on the lid of which was written "One to be taken occasionally."

"What are you doing?" said I.

"Well," he replied, "there is an old person here who says she is very ill, and in distress, and I strongly suspect this is the sort of menicine she wants."

ANECDOTE OF GENERAL GRANT.—A good one is told of General Grant. As he was in the cars on his way to the front, a newsboy came in crying out, "Life of General Grant!" One of the General's Aids pointed to to the General, told the boy he guessed that man would buy a copy. The boy approached the General, who asked him carelessly, "Who is General Grant?" The boy replied, "You must be a d--d greeny not to know General Grant!" The General, after that, of course, bought his life!

THE following is a specimen of some of the letters received by Gov. Brough. It is printed verbatim for its beauty's sake, only omitting the signature and post office, which are squeezed into one corner of the sheet:

"Dear Gobornor—I leve in Adams county, Wayne township the butternuts have dogged my hogs and poisoned my cattals now this to no of you if I shoot some of them if you would pardon me out of the pennetenchary ples asui by retorn male direct to etc."—Weekly Mail.

THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.—A Tribune correspondent says of the Army of the Potomac:

"Actual marching has worn out 50,000 pairs of shoes Two-thirds of the men——more than 100,000——have not changed a garment since they started; have marched, and fought, and slept, thirty days and thirty nights in heat, dust and rain, and have not changed a garment. They are fighting it out on this line."

THE Aurora Times says, after reviewing an article on Fremont, extracted from this paper:

If we mistake not, the editor of the Sacramento shoddy organ, in '56, was a Fremont man.

For the information of the gentleman, we will state that in 1856 we voted for James Buchanan, and may God have mercy on our soul.—[Sac. Star.

CUTTING SHORT A DISPUTE.—During the battle of the Wilderness, two Irishmen of the 20th Massachusetts were struggling for a rebel flag which they had simultaneously seized, when a shot cut the staff in two, leaving the flag and part of the staff in the hands of one of them. "Bedad" said the other, as he coolly resumed his loading and firing, "the rebels have decided for us this time.

WHEN Doctor W. and Lawyer A. were walking arm in arm, a wag said to a friend, "These two are just equal to one highwayman."

"Why?" was the response.

"Because," rejoined the wag, "it's a lawyer and a doctor—your money or your life."

AT a concert recently, at the conclusion of the song "There's a good time coming," a country farmer got up and asked, "Mister, you couldn't fix the date, could you?"

WHY is a young lady just from boarding school like a building committee? Because she is ready to receive proposals.
